Introduction

In accordance with the No Child Left Behind Act¹, federal regulations², and New Hampshire school accountability law,³ district appeals of the preliminary AYP determination are allowable under certain circumstances.

This document contains an Intent to Appeal form and the necessary procedural guidance for local officials completing an appeal of a school district's 2010 AYP determination. A second document contains all other forms. Both documents are available on the Department's website at www.ed.state.nh.us/education/AYP

Timetable and Deadlines

The appeals submission and review process is extremely time sensitive and must be completed, by statute, within 30 calendar days of the release of 2010 AYP determinations. Please refer to the specific deadlines listed below. As stated, the Commissioner of Education must receive completed appeals, comprised of all completed forms and accompanying documentation, by the close of business Friday, April 30, 2010. Note that receipt date differs from a postmark date. Appeals received after the April 30 deadline will not be considered.

Wednesday 4-7-10	NH Department of Education releases 2010 AYP reports to the public and to local school district officials. AYP determinations are preliminary.
Thursday 4-8-10	First day for school principals to submit an appeal to district officials. (Day 1 of the 30-day appeals process)
Friday 4-16-10	Intent to Appeal form filing deadline. Last day for school district officials to submit an Intent to Appeal form indicating the area(s) of the AYP report the school intends to appeal.
Friday 4-30-10 (close of business 4:30 p.m.)	Deadline for Commissioner of Education to receive an original and 3 copies of the completed appeal packet approved and certified by school district officials.
Friday 5-7-10	Deadline for Commissioner to notify district officials of decisions regarding submitted appeals. Preliminary AYP determinations and school in need of improvement designations become official.
Friday 5-28-10 (close of business 4:30 p.m.)	Deadline to submit an appeal of the Commissioner's ruling to the New Hampshire State Board of Education.

Appeal Process: District-to-Commissioner

- An “Intent to Appeal” notice must be submitted to the NH Department of Education no later than 4:30 PM on Friday, April 16, 2010. A blank form is included in this document. This notifies the Commissioner as to which area(s) of the AYP report the district intends to appeal. While this notice is required, it is also nonbinding. Therefore, district officials reserve the right to either not submit an appeal, or withdraw an appeal after one has been submitted.
- Should district officials elect to submit a district appeal, one original and three photocopies of the entire AYP appeal packet, including ALL appeal materials and supporting documentation, must be submitted to the NH Department of Education. As stated in the timetable on Page 3, the Commissioner of Education must receive the appeal packet no later than 4:30 p.m., Friday April 30, 2010.
- NHDOE personnel will review all appeals received by the deadline for completeness and accuracy.
- At the request of the Commissioner of Education, review teams comprised of district and NHDOE personnel review all appeals and present their recommendations to the Commissioner.
- If the Commissioner, upon review of the recommendations made by the review teams and the evidence provided in the appeal, determines that the AYP determination was in error due to allowable statistical or additional substantive reasons, then the Commissioner shall grant the appeal and communicate this decision in writing to the superintendent. The letter will also state the changes, if any, to the district’s AYP determination resulting from the successful appeal.
- If the Commissioner determines that the appeal provides insufficient statistical or substantive evidence, then the Commissioner shall deny the appeal and communicate this decision in writing to the superintendent. The preliminary AYP determination remains unchanged and becomes final.

Appeal Process: District-to-State Board of Education

- New Hampshire state statute allows a second appeal process to the State Board of Education. This appeal must be filed within 30 days of the Commissioner’s decision to deny an appeal.
- Appeals to the State Board must contain additional or amended information or data not previously contained in the appeal to the Commissioner. The NHDOE will forward to the State Board the district’s original appeal materials as well as the Commissioner’s decision and rationale for denying the appeal. The district must submit any new or amended information to the NHDOE by the deadline stated on Page 3.
- The superintendent will be notified of a hearing date to present the appeal at a regularly-scheduled meeting of the State Board. The burden of proof that the decision of the Commissioner was in error rests with the district. Presentations to the State Board must be limited to the statistical or substantive reasons permitted by the No Child Left Behind Act (20 USC 6316 §1116(b)(2)(B) 2001)).

Allowable Reasons for an Appeal

In accordance with the No Child Left Behind Act, a district appeal challenging the preliminary AYP determination is allowable for statistical reasons (Data Error), substantive reasons (Special Circumstances), or for both statistical and substantive reasons.

Data Error Appeal

An appeal challenging the data upon which the preliminary AYP determination was based must provide evidence of specific statistical errors or data inaccuracies since the time the data was certified by the Superintendent of Schools. A data error appeal for student participation or student performance calculations, student demographic information, attendance and/or graduation rates, must describe the data being disputed, the rationale as to how such errors occurred, and then provide the recalculated AYP determination using the revised data.

Special Circumstances Appeal

Special Circumstances appeals must explain unusual or extraordinary circumstances, such as a major natural disaster, community crisis, or other extraordinary or unforeseen event, that occurred during the time of testing and had a detrimental effect on student performance and/or student participation. The appeal must demonstrate why the student performance and/or student participation results are atypical, and show how, in the absence of such extenuating circumstances, the AYP determination would have been different. Additionally, the appeal must describe the action taken to avoid the occurrence of similar events in the future. If the event was beyond the district's control, the measures taken to reduce the likelihood of such circumstances having a similar impact in the future should be noted.

Clarification Regarding AYP Status of School Districts

District AYP is calculated for students in the aggregate for whom the district is responsible. 2010 is the second year in which out-of-district students are included in the district AYP calculation.

Districts containing one level (elementary/middle or high school) that do not meet the student participation or student performance targets in a content area, or do not meet the target for the third indicator, do not make AYP in the applicable area.

Districts containing two levels only need to make AYP at one of those levels to make AYP. Example: ABC district contains two levels, elementary/middle and high school. The district's AYP report is therefore comprised of two reports; an elementary/middle report and a high school report. The district made AYP in Reading at the elementary/middle level, but not at the high school level. As a whole, the district's AYP status for the 2010-11 school year is "Made AYP in Reading" because one of the two levels made AYP.

Required Components of the Completed Appeal Packet

A complete appeal packet consists of the following components. Please use the sequence below to organize your materials and label any page with the district name where it does not already appear.

- A cover letter on school district letterhead which indicates the allowable reason for the appeal;
- An AYP Appeal Cover Page;
- A completed "District AYP Appeals Grid" indicating the specific area(s) being appealed;
- A copy of all 3 pages of the 2010 District AYP report (districts with two levels must submit a copy of both the elementary/middle and secondary level reports);
- A narrative description explaining the basis for the appeal and outlining important facts, logic, or special circumstances;
- A printout of the data from the 2010 AYP Student Participation and/or Student Performance File for each subgroup applicable to the appeal. The printout must include data for the entire subgroup(s), not just the data for individual students your appeal is seeking to revise. The reports can be found in the ESS system under General Reports for school year 2009-2010 (<https://my.doe.nh.gov/myNHDOE/Login/Login.aspx>);
- The completed Worksheets from the Forms and Worksheets document that are applicable to the appeal; and
- Revised/recalculated 2010 District AYP report(s).

Send the original and 3 copies of the completed appeal packet to:

These are district files that will need to be sorted and distributed to schools as needed. They contain all student demographic and performance data except socioeconomic status. If an appeal needs to include socioeconomic data, please see the note below.

Note: The U.S. Department of Agriculture restricts access to student-level data for Economically Disadvantaged students. As the AYP student-level data for this subgroup is a district-level file, and as authorization to access this information is limited by federal law, the Superintendent of Schools must contact the i4see Help Desk by e-mail at i4seeHelp@ed.state.nh.us for instructions on how AYP student-level data for this subgroup may be accessed for the purposes of preparing an AYP appeal.

Submitting an Appeal for Participation Rate

Because of the complexity of this year's aggregate calculation, if you are thinking about filing an appeal based on participation rate, please review the explanation below about how the calculation is determined and then contact Tim Kurtz at 271-3828, tkurtz@ed.state.nh.us.

95% Participation Rate: This statistic is the number of students enrolled on the first day of testing who participated in the assessment divided by the number eligible to participate, reported to the nearest 1%. Each group of 40 or more students is evaluated for this requirement.

Beginning in 2010, if a group either does not meet the participation rate requirement or contains fewer than 40 students, data from the prior year is added to the calculation, and the group is reevaluated. If the group still does not meet the participation rate requirement or still contains fewer than 40 students, data from the prior two years is added to the calculation, and the group is reevaluated for a final time. The enrollment and participation data shown on the report are for the current year only. The participation rate decision shown on the report is an aggregate rate that may contain up to three years of data.

The following students are not included (by content area) in this participation rate calculation: students with a state approved special consideration, who were registered with the New Hampshire Department of Education (NH DOE); students who withdrew from the school prior to finishing testing; and students who enrolled after October 1.

NH Alt students are included in the participation rate for the school they attended during school year 2008–2009.

See the 2010 Adequate Yearly Progress Summary Report Explained for participation of English Language Learners (ELL).

Submitting an Appeal for Student Performance

Note: In accordance with New Hampshire's approved accountability plan, performance is not calculated for subgroups of fewer than 11 students.

Step 1

The data source for the appeal is an Excel file named "April 2010 AYP Performance – Student Level Data File." Data from this file must be used as the basis for demonstrating and explaining the error(s) and identifying which students should or should not be included in the Performance calculation. The file is accessible by logging into the password-protected i4see system:

www.ed.state.nh.us/i4see

- Choose myNHDOE (sign on)
- Enter User Name and password
Click on the i4see icon
(if you don't see it, you will need to get a district level sign on from your i4see person)
- Choose your district
- Choose Analysis Tab
- Select: Reports and then General Reports

Step 2

From the data file, select the school, content area and subgroup(s) applicable to your appeal. For each student with a data error, insert a row below the incorrect data, place an asterisk in Column A and retype the SASID to ensure the reviewers are examining data for the correct student.

Next, use the "Hide Column" feature in Excel to remove any student names so that the printed copy of the student level data file accompanying your appeal does not reveal the students' identity. Print out and submit the data for the entire subgroup(s) being appealed, so that the total number of students in the subgroup may be determined.

Step 3 (blank pages of the AYP Report are located in the District AYP Appeals Forms and Worksheets document)

Recalculate the District Index Report(s) (Page 3 of the AYP Report).

- Use the applicable blank form (elementary/middle level and/or high school level) and tally the number of students in each subgroup
- combine all grades together for that level
- calculate the Index using the formula at the bottom of the Index Report page

Step 4

Complete the District Data Report(s) (Page 2 of the AYP Report). Record the results from the above Index calculations on blank District AYP Data Report form(s).

Step 5

Complete the applicable Performance Worksheet(s) located in the District AYP Appeals Forms and Worksheets document.

- Use the results from Steps 3 and 4 to determine if the recalculated Index score meets or exceeds the Annual Measurable Objective (AMO) target listed in the upper right-hand corner of the Performance Worksheet.
- If the score does not meet the AMO requirement, the next step is to check the Confidence Interval Lookup Table to see if the minimum index score has been met for that number of students.
- If the score does not meet the Confidence Interval target, calculate Safe Harbor. To meet Safe Harbor, all three conditions described on the Performance Worksheet must be met.

Note: Students tested out-of-district (OOD) are included in the 2010 District AYP Reports

Submitting an Appeal for the “Other” Indicator

Attendance Rate (District Elementary/Middle Level)

Complete an Attendance Rate Worksheet located in the AYP Appeals Forms document.

1. Provide the following information from the grades 1-8 that were in your district for the school year 2008-09:
 - number of students
 - total number of ½ days of attendance
 - total number of ½ days of enrollment (attendance + absences)
2. Calculate the attendance rate (AR) (rounded to the nearest 0.1%).
Attendance Rate % = $\frac{\text{Sum of } \frac{1}{2} \text{ days of attendance}}{\text{Sum of } \frac{1}{2} \text{ days of enrollment}} \times 100$
3. Compare the calculation to the 90% attendance rate requirement.

If $AR_{2008-2009} \geq 90\%$, then the standard is met for 2010 AYP Report.

Graduation Rate (District High School Level)

To appeal the graduation rate, submit a copy of the 2008-09 dropout reporting form produced by the NHDOE Bureau of Data Management, together with a narrative explaining any changes and supporting documentation of those changes.

Beginning with 2010 AYP reports, improvement of graduation rate was not allowed by U.S. Department of Education. Therefore, schools and districts must meet the 75% graduation rate target.

District Appeal of the “Other” Indicator

If appealing the “other” indicator, place an “X” in the appropriate non-shaded box below and also enter one of the following codes in the corresponding shaded box to identify the reason(s) for the appeal.

APPEAL BASIS CODES

DE=Data Error (statistical) SC=Special Circumstances (substantive) BOTH = Both Reasons
