

Share your expertise at the annual AP® Reading

Interact and exchange ideas with fellow AP teachers.

For more than 50 years, AP® has partnered with high school AP teachers and faculty at colleges/universities to prepare students for success in higher education. By participating in the AP Reading, college-level faculty and high school teachers help ensure that AP Exams continue to measure a student's ability to master college-level work.

Join more than 12,000 college faculty and AP teachers who convene annually to score answers to free-response questions from students around the world. This is a unique opportunity to attend the very best Teacher Professional Development that exists today in education.

This year we are focusing recruitment efforts on professionals with expertise in Environmental Science, Human Geography, US Government & Politics, US History, and Psychology.
