New Hampshire Vocational Rehabilitation (NHVR) Services for the Blind and Vision Impaired (SBVI), part of the New Hampshire Department of Education, is thrilled to announce a four-day Summer Academy program at the University of New Hampshire! This program aims to equip high school students with the tools and knowledge needed for success in education, in their communities, and in future competitive work environments.

"We are extremely excited to embark on this fantastic initiative with the University of New Hampshire," remarked Scott Vittner, Administrator of Services for the Blind and Vision Impaired. "Sky's the Limit Communications (STLC) is proud to collaborate on delivering this college initiative. STLC delivers similar training on college campuses throughout the country.

The SBVI Summer Academy is scheduled to run from Tuesday, June 18 through Friday, June 21; this program will be held on the vibrant campus of the University of New Hampshire. Students participating in this program will delve into various topics, including assistive technology, literacy, daily living skills, and interactions with different campus departments. They will have the awesome opportunity to learn from and engage with several campus departments including Student Accessibility Services (SAS), and even collaborate with campus police to address safety concerns while on campus.

This unique and immersive event promises to provide invaluable experiences and insights that will empower students to navigate the challenges of higher education and the workplace successfully. We look forward to welcoming enthusiastic students to this groundbreaking college preparatory program, where they will gain the skills and confidence needed to excel in their academic and professional journeys.
