Common Core State Standards Initiative Timeline

September 2009

- Draft College and Career Ready Standards were released by NGA and CCSSO

November 2009

- Common Core State Standards K-12 Work and Feedback Groups Announced
- First very rough draft released to states – many missing sections

December 2009

- NH submitted comments and also supporting documents from our Curriculum Frameworks and Literacy Plan on topics that we felt needed to be addressed in the standards(text complexity, metacognitive strategies, habits of mind, quantitative literacy)

January 2010

- Next draft released to states with very quick turnaround time

February 2010

- Another draft just to states with conference calls scheduled for verbal feedback – many states had similar concerns, but all agreed that the writing teams had been responsive to feedback (NH was given permission to hold focus groups even though the February draft was still confidential)

February 16-March 5

- 14, two hour feedback sessions held in Manchester, Concord, Keene, Claremont, Exeter, and Gorham
- Over 200 teachers and curriculum leaders from more than half of our NH districts commented on the clarity and appropriateness of the standards in mathematics and English/language arts

March 10, 2010

- First public draft of Common Core Standards released
- NH State Board Meeting discussion

April 2, 2010

- NH Comments submitted that included teacher feedback from the sessions and also an in-depth review by the NH Teachers of Mathematics
- RI, VT, and NH all voiced similar concerns about the mathematics standards and urged the writing committee to take their time and review all the feedback
- Literacy standards have improved greatly and are much more in line with ours.

April 13, 2010

- CCSSO announces that there will be two more opportunities for states (not the public) to give feedback before the final standards are released

April 14, 2010

- Update to the State Board

May 14, 2010

- Final, unformatted draft of ELA standards without appendix documents – for fatal flaw review

May 26, 2010

- Release of unformatted mathematics standards

June 1, 2010
